LIVE AND LET LIVE FOLKS.

Two hundred and fifty thousand horses and mules, costing about $100,000,000, are to be purchased by the Government for use in the army.

"Seventeen", Booth Tarkington's "Tale of Youth and Summer", and the Baxter Family, especially William, has just been placed by the Navy Department on its list for the crews' libraries of all naval vessels.

Our flag stands for both civil and religious liberty, and when called to the colors every true American should answer to his fullest extent. Every bond sold will strengthen our nation in this trying hour and bless the purchaser. The sale of Liberty Loan bonds will teach economy. From every viewpoint, the selling campaign carries a strong appeal. We should stand ready not only to encourage others to become interested, but to offer ourselves as an instrument in the promotion of the cause.

The ladies are urged to meet at the Union room at 2 o'clock promptly, Saturday. Bring the flowers made into bouquets.

TO TAX ADVERTISING

War taxation of the publishers, advertising receipts rather than increase of their postage rates was vigorously urged by representatives of national publishing interests at a conference with Senators who are redrafting the War Tax Bill.

MR. MOUNT TO SPEAK.

Mr. J. R. Mount announces that he will speak in Stanford next Monday, county court day, at the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Senator. He extends a cordial invitation to his opponents to be present and hear him.

HANDSOME FLAG.

The Old Fellows of this city have recently had erected over their lodge room one of the largest flags in the city. The flag was placed in position under the supervision of Mr. John Williams, the efficient custodian of the lodge. The flag is an honor to that body and a credit to the city.

BIG FLAG RAISING.

Stanford is making great preparations for a big "flag raising" there this afternoon. The First Regiment band will be on hand and a number of patriotic speeches will be made. Among the speakers announced being: Judge Chas. A. Hardin, Col. Wm. A. Colston, Hon. Edwin P. Morrow and Judge John W. Yerkes.

CANNERY FOR LANCASTER.

Our Of Cans Ordered And People Urged to Co-operate. Farm agent Rogers informs us that a cannery outfit is assured for Lancaster and that plans are now well under way to carry out a successful end. He urges that every one who owns a garden to put out to the limit all of the perishable vegetables and that he will see that not a single ounce is wasted, if you will only bring it to this cannery to be preserved. Money is being subscribed liberally for this worthy and patriotic enterprise and those in charge hope to have it in full blast, at least by the time the first vegetables are ready for canning. All you have to do is to bring your vegetables and the rest will be done at the factory. The charges will be small, in fact the actual cost of the cans and the actual cost of labor is all that will be asked. Don't be afraid that any thing will now go to waste, since we are assured of the factory and a car load of cans on the side.

DRAFT EXEMPTIONS.

Claimed At Reserve Corps Camps.

The discharge of about seventy-five candidates for commissions from the Reserve Officers Training Camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., has been recommended by their various Captains, because they did not believe they showed in making out registration cards, proper spirit for officers of the United States army. Exemptions were claimed on grounds that the men were married, were physically disabled or were under military age. The Captain of one company told the men one by one, that unless they were willing to serve as privates they were not wanted as commissioned officers.

985

REGISTER FOR SELECT- IVE DRAFT SERVICE In Garrard County

With every evidence of their willingness to serve, 985 of Garrard's noble sons went to their various voting places last Tuesday and inscribed their names upon the nation's roll of honor.

The day was made the occasion for quite a display of patriotism, the drum and trumpet corps keeping up a lively tattoo during the entire day. At the stroke of seven and with the opening of the registration booths, the old cannon presented to the city by the U. S. Government, fired the national salute, until the hills fairly echoed from the old gun, which had probably not been fired since the civil war. Yet with all the noise, the clanging of the bells and the street parades by the boy scouts, the entire county seemed to have sensed the significance and solemnity of the occasion.

Of the total number registered, 922 are white and 163 colored.

East Park gave the largest number of the nine precincts, those registering there numbering 128. The Union precinct came up well with 106 and those in charge of the registration at this precinct, say there were few who claimed exemptions.

The total registration in the county exceeded the government's estimate, as it gave Garrard's quota as 975.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP

Reaches Nearly 700 In Garrard County Chapter.

Anyone who has been the least bit skeptical as to Garrard County's ability to support a Red Cross Chapter, should have every doubt removed by now, since the membership in this chapter has reached nearly seven hundred members since its organization ten days ago. This number has been practically raised in six of the nine precincts in the county. The precincts of Paint Lick, Buckeye and Lawson School House have never been solicited. The committee appointed to work in the three Lancaster precincts, two Bryantsville precincts and the precinct at Walker's School house, on registration day, did noble work and when the dollars began to roll in Tuesday night, the ambitions of its local founders had been realized, for they saw at once that it would be a success and that they had the hearty co-operation and the patriotic sympathy of the entire county. Its leaders say they will not rest until the membership reaches or over equals the number registered under the selective draft service, which was 985 in the county.

LIBERTY LOAN IS

PRICE OF PEACE

It's up to everybody to "do his bit." Your backyard affords opportunity to put your shoulders to the wheel and get started right. You'll thereby render genuine service to yourself and country.

THE TERMS OF

THE LIBERTY LOAN.

The act authorizing the Liberty Loan Bonds of 1917 was passed April 23, 1917. It provides for the issuance of $5,000,000,000 of 3 1/2 per cent bonds, the interest payable semi-annually on December 15 and June 15 of each year. The principal is repayable on or after the 15th day of June 1932, at the option of the Government, and if this option is not exercised the bonds will run full 20 years and become due June 15th 1937.

The bonds are exempt both as to principal and interest from all taxation, national, State, county, or municipal, except the inheritance tax, which is really not a tax on the property, but on the transfer of property by will or inheritance.

The bonds are to be sold at par; that is, dollar for dollar, no premium and no discount. They are to be sold by the Treasurer of the United States and by all Federal Reserve banks. But all banks, National and State, post offices, and express companies have been designated as agents of the Government to receive application for these bonds. It is almost as easy to purchase one of these bonds as it is to get a post-office money order.

It is not necessary to pay cash in full for a bond. One can pay down 2 per cent of the purchase price on application—that is, $1 for a $50 bond, $2 for a $100 bond, etc.—18 per cent on July 25, 1917; 20 per cent July 30, 1917; 30 per cent August 15, 1917, and the balance, 30 per cent, August 30, 1917.

CAN I AFFORD NOT TO BE- LONG TO THE RED CROSS?

ASK YOURSELF THIS QUESTION

"Can I afford not to do my part in showing our Government, our army, our navy and our Allies, that every person in the United States is supporting them?"

It is idle to shut your eyes to what is before us.

Our boys will soon be in the midst of this war. Shall we not equip and support them?

Those who can't fight must pay. We must dedicate our energies and our resources.

Have you read "Mr. Britling Sees It Through"? If you will recall that Mr. Britling did not realize there was a war until his son Hugh was killed. That's our trouble. We don't realize this war. We think of it as something remote. Don't wait until your boy is killed to join the Red Cross.

To buy a Liberty Bond is an act of patriotism. It is one way to enter this fight. These bonds mean liberty for humanity. To join the Red Cross is another way to show your patriotism, it means you are willing to help alleviate the suffering of those who are fighting for you. Show your patriotism.

Seven million men have been killed in the war thus far and the total casualties exceed $45,000,000. This is the estimate made by Arthur Henderson, member of the British War Council. He said the end of the war was not an immediate prospect and that it would not come until Germany's plan of military domination was defeated.

TAKEN FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL BULLETIN

Class Chronicle CHAPTER I.

Now the history of Class of Nineteen-Seventeen, of the High School, of the city of Lancaster, County of Garrard, State of Kentucky reads this wise:

In the nineteenth year of our Lord, in the eighth month, during the leadership of one known as M. L. Caner, a man of wisdom, whose vice was Miss Mabel Mason, into this land of learning, there entered, as first possessors of the New Temple of Wisdom, forty and two seekers after knowledge. Some came directly from the eighth grade, already stored with that gooshy wisdom; some were green and fresh from a distant land; some had been tillers of farms; and some had been attracted from other Temples of Wisdom. And it came to pass, as they did, come they were welcomed by those leaders.

It also came to pass that they were taken in by a lawless number called Sophomores, who did seek to draw their Freshman blood. Verily have they been martyrs to the cause of wisdom.

After they had dwelt in this land they felt it with the customs and became as one.

Now it came to pass, that for many months of this time, these folk did happen to various infirmities, called athletics which only time, not the instructors was able to cure. Yet none were lost to the living.

And it also came to pass that when the Book of Graduation was opened, many began to make excuses. One said, "my eyes are weak; I cannot continue." One hastened to remark, "I am needed at home, and cannot graduate." And others ventured, "we are dense and cannot learn." One maiden said, "I prefer to be married, I need not graduate." And so it came to pass that of this goodly number four and ten had made excuses.

CHAPTER II.

Now it came to pass, when another separate year had started, those of the eight and twenty, now remaining, were transported to an Upper Chamber of of this Temple of Wisdom. And it further came to pass that as the new birds came into this land of learning, these others remembered their own greenness and as the Sophomores had shown to them, even so did they unto these new Freshman.

During all this second year, many small skirmishes with neighboring gangs of athletes brought defeat and various heartaches.

And it came to pass, at the end of this second year, the Book of Graduation was again reopened and now five of these lusty youths did make excuses and departed.

CHAPTER III.

Now it came to pass of this Class of Nineteen-Seventeen, twenty only entered into the Other Room where frowned Miss Robinson, the term. But just in this year began, a maiden fair to look upon, having strayed from another journeying company, was welcomed by this worthy class and this gleeful number now consisted of twenty-four.

And it came about, as their pride increased, this class wished for signets befitting their station. Then plundering cities for fine jewelry, they, as a class, possessed themselves of rings, Roman chased and lettered. And behold it did likewise come to pass, during the months of this year, that these Juniors be thought them of their Social debts. And so thinking these things, the Class made many a feast to which was bidden the friends in honor of Seniors, to devour the mountains of frozen whiteness and sundry rich viands. This was an exceeding glad season.

And at the end of these months as Juniors, again came forth this Book of Graduation which caused, with usual panic, full of this Valiant number to lose courage and so leave.

CHAPTER IV.

And verily it came to pass that on the fourth year, this class had cause for direful fore-boding. For was not this Book of Graduation produced on the very first day? The leaders had changed and now P. H. Hopkins, who had dwelt in another region, came to have the key to that wonderful Book of records.

And it came to pass, that this Book contained more than ever we dreamed of.

But it also came to pass that this worthy new leader occasionally closed this Book, and even expressed a desire that the Seniors, seventeen in number, should assemble themselves before an artist and procure for him a picture of passing beauty. Now it came to pass that though they did as had been requested, it was unlike expectations and surely a disappointment.

After many months, these youths of Nineteen-Seventeen, deeming themselves worthy of colors, did choose as one, the purple of royalty and the gold of purity.

And now it has come to pass, that at the end of this, the fourth year, there are seventeen, which are these:

Zula Fay, of the House of Acton,
Will Rice, eldest son of the House of Anon.

Catherine, of the House of Bonnie,
who hath added the scribe in making this chronicle.

Ruth, first daughter of F. B. of the House of Broadus.
Susie Virginia, whose House name is Corn.

Nellie and Sallie, daughters of Jasper and Henry, brothers, of the House of Cox.

Mannie Stormes, whose House name is Dunn.
Will Mac, son of W. M. of the House of Elliott.

Owen of the House of Hendren,
William, second son of Archibald, second of the House of Kavanagh.

James, only son of Joseph, House of Neavus.
Annie, of the House of Powell.

Alice second daughter of the House of Rigney.
Burton and Irvin, first and second sons of Forest of the House of Slapp.

Georgia, of the House of Moss whom the Class Nineteen-Seventeen did make their president, and aided in making this chronicle.

So it came to pass that after the four years of the sojourning together that of the forty-two who entered the Land of Knowledge and dwelt these months in this Temple of Wisdom, only seventeen will depart, for verily the gate is broad into High School but narrow is the path out through the gate of graduation, and few have found it.

And thus have these dwelt in reasonable peace and harmony, for all these four eventful years, and some must depart to lands they know not of, to do they know not what.

Miss Brashear to Leave

Patrons, pupils and faculty alike express deep regret at the resignation of Miss Sue Brashear, who for twelve years has been the popular and efficient first grade teacher in Lancaster school.

Miss Brashear goes to teach in her Alma Mater Cincinnati.

The Class 1917, received their "start" under Miss Brashear, and it seems a coincidence that they leave at same time.

Another Estimate of a College Education.

Dr. Arthur Holmes, of Pennsylvania, State College, fixes the monetary value of a College education at from $18,000 to $20,000. His estimate was based upon a comparison of salaries of college trained men with those not having the same advantages. According to Dean Holmes, the average yearly salary of the college man is $1,187, while $418 is the average income of the non-college man, a difference of more than $600 in favor of the man with higher training. Thirty years work will make this advantage worth $18,500, according to Dean Holmes' calculation.

RED BLOOD AMERICANISM IS COMING TO THE FRONT

Right now this Country is calling for men of stout hearts and sound bodies. It needs them to keep Old Glory triumphant and unscalped in the air.

The exigency now confronting us emphasizes, as nothing else could do, the importance of good health, both as an individual and national asset.

It gives point to the suggestion, often emanating from this office, that everybody should guard their health as a priceless possession. When you find yourself running down and not exactly keyed up to the fighting pitch, as is the case with everybody at times, you ought to come to Nature's relief and take a course of

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull headache, or sudden darting pain in the small of them.

Parker Jenkins, stationary engineer,

"My work calls for a lot of stooping to get out of fix. I had dull pains across my back and loins. My kidneys acted too frequently and then again were sluggish and the secretions contained a brick-dust-like sediment. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, that I bought at R. E. McRoberts' Pharmacy. The backache left me and my kidneys be-

CHAUTAUQUA ALMOST HERE.

Mr. S. J. Lang, the seventeen day man, for Redpath's Chautauqua was in the city last Monday and Tuesday and fairly flooded the city with attractive advertising. A meeting of the guarantors was held Monday morning and a committee named to collect the pledges that were given last year. The time is very limited for this work and it is to be hoped that those owing pledges will be prompt with their payments when called upon. But better still those who know that they made these pledges last year, should call on Mr.
Robert Embury at the National Bank, who holds them and would be glad to take your money.

RUTH LAW WILL MAKE AERIAL TRIPS FOR LOAN

Ruth Law started from Cleveland
Tuesday morning on a ten days' flying tour in behalf of the Liberty Loan in the machine she flew from Chicago to New York last year. She will drop paper bombs over the cities of the middle west and southwest with messages urging every man and woman to subscribe to the war fund.

Miss Law, upon returning from Europe in the spring, offered her services to the Government, asking that she be sent to the front as soon as possible.
Since then she has aided in recruiting.
Last week she wrote Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo:

"I have bought my Liberty bond and if I can do anything to induce others to do their patriotic duty, please consider me at the command of the Government."

The flying tour was quickly arranged by the Director of Publicity, Henry L.
Doherty, New York banker, agreeing to defray the expense, and to arrange for landing and supply stations.

ROOTS AND BARK ANCIENT REMEDY

Our Grandfathers Used Them
In Crude Form.

CHIEF INGREDIENTS OF TONIC

Our grandfathers, and great grandfathers knew the medicinal value of roots, barks, berries and herbs. Their medicinal qualities are the same now as they were a hundred years ago, but the scientific process of treating them
has been improved.

In former times the herbs were brewed into teas. Today modern laboratories make a vastly superior product.
Tandae is a preparation of roots, barks and berries subjected to a process that extracts their medicinal virtues in concentrated form. It is especially designed to build up run down people. It has helped thousands who were suffering from disordered stomachs, liver and kidneys.

George R. Kelly, a mail carrier of New Hope, Ky., is one of the thousands in the Blue Grass State who have endorsed Tandae. Here is what he has to say about this wonderful tonic:

"I had trouble with my stomach and bowels. After eating I had cramps. I lost my appetite and got so I hated to eat anything. I felt bad all over. My tongue was coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth."

"Nothing helped me before I started taking Tandae. I took three bottles and by that time I could eat anything without having cramps. I am feeling fine now. Tandae helped me from the start and I have recommended it to many of my friends."

If you are not feeling right get Tandae today.

Tandae can be bought here from R. E. Mc-
Roberts, Paint Lick, J. S. Moffatt, Stanford, Penny Junction, City, Reynolds & Lamm,
Richmond, R. L. Perry & Son, Danville, John
S. Wells.

WHEN WILL IT END.

Nobody knows when the war will end.
Nobody knows on what terms it will end, but the people of the United States
feel that they know that the war will be won by the allies no matter if six months or six years are required to win it.

In England most people have grown tired of attempting to predict the date of the ending of the war. Most people in England laughed at Lord Kitchener's prediction of a war of three years.
When Italy came into the war it was generally assumed that "the end was near". Rumania's entrance last summer was expected to be decisive. Now the United States has come in and the war still goes on.

The following piece of newspaper verse, which we are told is on everybody's lips in London, comes as close to the situation as any military or civil prophet could do:

"Absolute confidence have I none,
But my aunt's charwoman's sister's son

Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to the housemaid in Downing street
That he had a brother who had a friend Who knew when the war was going to end."

THE KAISER THE BEAST OF REVELATION

Here is something exceedingly interesting, if not true, which we clip from the Montreal Star. We gladly pass it on for the consideration of others.

The Star says: "A local biblical student has discovered proof that the "Beast of Revelation" is actually the Kaisers, and that the war he has provoked will last for three and three and a half years.

The proof is based on the 15th chapter of Revelation, verses 4-5, which read thus: And they worshiped the beast saying, who is like unto the beast? Who is able to make war with him? And there was given unto him a mouth
speaking great things and blasphemies,
and power was given unto him to continue unto forty and two months."

There we have a fairly recognizable portrait of the Kaiser, and the statement of the war's duration. But the clinching evidence is in verse 18. "Here is wisdom." Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast:
For it is the number of a man; and his number is six hundred, three score and six."

But how does the number 666 fit the Kaiser? That is very simple. Listen:
Give each letter in K A I S E R its alphabetical number. A is the first, B is the second, C is third, and so on.

Place beside each alphabetical number
the number 6, which is the total number of letters in the word Kaiser. Add up the results.

Here it is worked out for you.
K is letter No. 11 add 6 116
A is letter No. 1, add 6 16
I is letter No. 9, add 6 96
S is letter No. 19, add 6 196
E is letter No. 5, add 6 56
R is letter No. 18, add 6 186
666

"And his number is six hundred,
three score and six."

W. T. WEST NOW
A CITY FATHER

At the regular monthly meeting of the City Council last Monday night,
the resignation of councilman R. P.
Gregory was accepted as he leaves in a few weeks to make his home in Hendersonville N. C. The naming of Mr.
Gregory's successor was then taken up and by unanimous vote of the entire board, Mr. W. T. West was elected to fill out the unexpired term. The appointment of Mr. West is a wise one and that he will look well after the city's welfare goes without saying.

MAIN CAMP ON BEASLEY FARM.

If Lexington gets the training camps, and it is expected it will, the camp site offered by Lexington and recommended to Washington by General Barry embraces two thousand or more acres made up of the Beasley farm of 775 acres, on the Hyvan Station road, one thousand acres of Elmendorf, and two optional tracts of 400 and 225 acres, respectively, adjacent to the Beasley farm.

The farm of the Beasley brothers known here as "Pony and Duck" lies practically in a square only three miles from Lexington and should Lexington be so fortunate, upon their farm the main camp will be located.

Only One Old Jewish Fast.

One fast only was appointed by the old Jewish law, that on the day of Atonement. No other periodical fast is mentioned in the Old Testament except in Zechariah 7:3-7, and 8:19. The number of annual fasts in the present
Jewish calendar have been multiplied to 28.

DAIRY WISDOM.

The cream from different breeds
of cows does not churn alike.
There are more good cows in this country today than at any previous period, but there is still room for improvement.
Health and wealth in stables
with pure air everywhere.
The calves will learn to eat
bright clover hay at two weeks of age.
Interest in the milk goat persists, and this novel dairy activity is growing in favor.

CABBAGE CULTIVATION.

Early and Late Varieties Require Different Soil and Treatment.

Both early and late varieties of cabbage are grown extensively. In the north early cabbage may be planted in loosebeds and transplanted to the open ground as soon as the soil is ready to be worked, says the United States department of agriculture. For a late crop it is customary to plant the seeds in a bed in the open ground in May or June and transplant them to the garden in July. For cabbage of this character the soil should be heavier and more retentive of moisture than for early cabbage, which requires a rich, warm soil in order to reach maturity quickly. For the late variety it

The big prices that cabbage have brought in the markets the past winter will doubtless stimulate the planting of this vegetable. The picture shows a fine field of cabbage.

is not desirable to have too rich a soil, as the heads are liable to burst.
Cabbages should be set in rows thirty to thirty-six inches apart, the plants
standing fourteen to eighteen inches apart in the row.

To store cabbage the heads should be buried in pits or placed in cellars.
One method is to dig a trench about eighteen inches deep and three feet wide and set the cabbage upright, with the heads close together and the roots embedded in the soil. When cold weather comes the heads are covered lightly with straw and three or four inches of earth put in. Slight freezing does not injure cabbage, but it should not be subjected to repeated freezing and thawing. Early cabbage cannot be kept, as it does not stand but wither well. It should be used soon after it has formed a solid head.

It is now a solemn obligation upon every farmer to see that his corn is cultivated, so as to make every grain count and yield its utmost. The eyes of the whole world are turned toward the American farmer and upon him falls the responsibility of not only supplying his own country with enough to eat, but the Allied countries are depending upon him also. In view of these conditions it becomes the solemn obligation for every farmer to use the very best cultivator to make his land produce the utmost.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has sent out letters to bankers urging them to render financial assistance to farmers who are in need of funds in their effort to entrench and broaden the production of foodstuffs. The Secretary points out the necessity of producing record crops, not only for the people of this country but for the people of the allied nations.

Secretary McAdoo suggests that bankers and all others make an organized study of the question of making loans to farmers for increased production.

The reserves of food in the world are low. Your country needs your services and your money. You can do nothing with your money more useful than to loan it for increased agricultural production. Even under normal conditions such loans will be found safe and profitable.

A SCOUT WITH A HOE

With a hoe in his hand
And a tongue in his head,
A Scout is as good
As a man shooting lead.
As good as a soldier,
As good as a ship.
His hoe is his weapon
No gun on his hip.
He's up in the morning,
At night he's in bed.
He works for our Country
He keeps fighters fed.
Not looking for medals,
Not making a show,
Not tiring the hero
Just a Scout with a hoe,
He enlists none more,
Each Scout with a hoe,
Each one's a soldier
To make the grub grow.
Two million Scout hoers
Have an influence felt
In that line of defenses
Just under the belt. (Scouting)

POULTRY AND EGGS

TURKEY RAISING HINTS.

Methods of Incubating the Eggs and Caring For the Hen.
[Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.]

Turkey hens and chicken hens are ordinarily used to incubate turkey eggs, although incubators are quite generally used where turkeys are raised on a large scale. During the early part of the hatching season it often happens that there are on hand a number of eggs that should be set before any of the turkey hens are through laying their first litter and become "broody." In such case and also when it is desired to have the turkey hens lay a second or third litter some of the eggs have to be incubated under chicken hens or in an incubator. About a week before the poult are to hatch

SEPARATE SITTING COOP FOR TURKEY HEN.

a sufficient number of turkey hens should be allowed to sit to take all the poult hatched. They can be given a few eggs from the incubator or from under the chicken hens and allowed to hatch the poult themselves, or at night a newly hatched poult can be slipped under each turkey hen that is to be given a brood of poult, and by morning they will take them.

Nests for sitting turkey and chicken hens are best made on the ground by following out a little earth, so that the center is deep enough to keep the eggs from rolling out of the nest. A thin covering of clean straw or hay can then be used to prevent the eggs from being directly on the ground, and a large roosting coop should be placed over the nest to keep the hen from being disturbed.

When a hen becomes broody and shows that she is in earnest by remaining on her nest for two or three nights she may safely be trusted with the eggs, provided she is allowed to sit in that nest. If she is to be set in another nest, as is usually the case, then she should be removed to the new nest, preferably after dark, given a few nest eggs and shut in to prevent her from returning to the old one. If she sits quietly on the nest eggs she should be taken off on the evening of the following day and the eggs to be hatched placed in the nest. On being freed she will probably return to her old nest. If so she should be carried back and set quietly on the eggs, when she will immediately feel them beneath her and settle down to cover them.

Turkey hens do not ordinarily come off for food and water more than once every two or three days, but when confined they should be given an opportunity to come off every day. Occasionally a turkey hen does not come off at all, and in such case she should be taken off once a day, as otherwise she will die on the nest.

A dust bath is greatly enjoyed by sitting hens and helps to keep them free from vermin. White corn is a good feed, and fresh water and dirt should always be accessible.

lice are a great annoyance to turkey hens and are one of the worst enemies of young poult. To prevent them getting a foothold the hen should be dusted thoroughly with some good fine powder before she is placed on the nest, and then both the hen and nest should be similarly treated once a week for the first three weeks of the incubation period. The nesting material should be kept clean, and if the eggs become dirty they should be washed with a soft cloth dipped in hot warm water. Just before the poult are to hatch the old nesting material should be replaced with clean straw.

The incubation period of turkey eggs is twenty-eight days.

For Scaly Leg.

If the hen has scaly legs use one part lard and the same amount of coal oil mixed and applied to the legs after the chicks are several days old. Also at the same time take about one-third of a teaspoonful of lard or vasoline and rub the grease into the heavy feathering between the thighs. Part the feathers and rub it into the feathers next the skin.

Hatching Goose Eggs.

It requires a full month to hatch a goose egg, and incubation is performed by either a hen or a goose. A good sized hen will cover five eggs, and a goose can take care of as many as fifteen. It is seldom that any of the geese are lost, except through accident or exposure to hard storms while still very young.

New Torpedo With Ears Soon to Be Demonstrated Here

MR. WOOD DEMONSTRATING HIS NEW TORPEDO UPON THE CHAUTAUQUA PLATFORM.

THE marvelous torpedo with ears, invented by Montreville Wood, scientist, is to be demonstrated at the forthcoming Hedgpath Chautauqua here by Mr. Wood himself. It is estimated that within a few months past more than 5,000,000 people have read of Montreville Wood and this new torpedo.

The torpedo is of such size that it can be seen from all parts of an auditorium or chautauqua tent, and as it follows the direction of the sounds created by Mr. Wood a feeling of surprise and awe is notable throughout the audience. Also at the close of each performance crowds gather about the scientist while he answers multitudinous questions.

Popular Mechanics Magazine, with a circulation of more than 300,000, used a page story, illustrated, in the December issue.

The Illustrated Sunday Magazine, which is used as a supplement to sixteen big city newspapers with a million and a quarter circulation, told of Wood and his torpedo in the Nov. 26 issue. Papers served at that time were the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times, Minneapolis Tribune, Memphis Commercial Appeal, Detroit Free Press, Boston

Herald, Louisville Courier-Journal, Rochester Democrat Chronicle, Des Moines Register-Lender, Philadelphia Record, Columbus Dispatch, Milwaukee Sentinel, Omaha World Herald, Worcester Telegraph, Dayton News, Providence Tribune and Buffalo Times.

An entirely different descriptive story about Mr. Wood and his invention appeared Oct. 15 in nine newspapers with a combined circulation of nearly 700,000. Chicago Herald, Pittsburgh Leader, Salt Lake City News, Seattle Times, Columbus Dispatch, Oregon Journal, San Diego Union, San Francisco Chronicle and Los Angeles Tribune.
